What you've done since high school: I went to the University of Montana for two years, then to the College of Charleston in Charleston, South Carolina on the National Student Exchange Program. After that, I returned to UM, earning a degree in Liberal Arts, while working at the university library. I continued in school to earn a degree in elementary Education, working in a preschool as a part-time job. After student teaching in 5th grade at Roosevelt School in Great Falls, I substitute taught (yuck!!), until being hired by the Great Falls Public Schools, to teach 5th grade at Morningside Elementary. I taught there for two years, and currently teach 6th grade creative writing at East Middle School.

Your occupation: 6th Grade Creative Writing Teacher, East Middle School

Spouse's occupation: Employee, Cascade County

Miles traveled to reunion: 100 yards

Favorite G.F.H.S. Teacher: Kay Dell Nelson, teacher extraordinaire!

Thoughts you are having approaching the reunion: "Boy, I can't believe I volunteered to help organize this thing. I didn't know a soul in high school! Will anyone remember me? I'm going to look like an idiot! But, I'm good enough, I'm smart enough, and doggone it, people like me."

Funny high school story: While competing in competitive drama, Heidi Nybo, Teresa Olds, Kerry Keating and I shared a hotel room in Billings. We got in to the room occupied by Margo Tiffany and Heather Gordon and turned on the hot water in their shower and sink. When they got back about thirty minutes later, their room was like a sauna. They immediately came over to accuse us, but we were "asleep." The story itself isn't that funny, but the memory of how hard we laughed when they and the chaperones left always makes me chuckle.

Funny post-highschool story: I got married soon after the reunion. After the ceremony, we showed up at the Country Club where a transformer box had blown so there was no power. The staff tried to improvise by putting hundreds of candles around the room. Romantic, huh? By the time the cake was cut, John (the groom) had gotten so sick, he had thrown up four times and his fever was rising rapidly. My sister-in-law, a nurse, took him to the emergency room where he was given an anti-nausea drug. He was too sick to return, so he went home to bed. After the reception, I went to the honeymoon suite to get our stuff, and I went home. I laid next to my new husband with a 104 degree temperature for the rest of the night. It was truly the hottest night of my life. (Editor's note: It has to occur to you the significance of the groom getting sick immediately following his marriage to you!)

Hobbies and interests: Sewing, needle point, Regional Director for Odyssey of the Mind, and my two labs, Hershhal and Alex.

What you've done since high school: After graduation, I attended one year of college at MSU. Two years later, I moved to Michigan where I completed my B.S. in Mechanical Engineering at Grand Valley State University in Allendale.

I worked in the automotive industry as a process engineer for three years during college and after graduation. Somewhere along the line, I must have been struck in the head by a large, blunt object, because I thought graduate school might be a cool idea. By May of 1995, I completed my M.S. in Mechanical Engineering at the University of Norte Dame in South Bend, Indiana.

I am now living in the suburbs of Cincinnati, Ohio. I am a mechanical engineer working in rocketry and turbo machinery design for General Electric Aircraft Engines Division in Cincinnati. (Editor's note: Who else's jaw is resting on the table right now?) I am now looking to settle down and maybe get a dog.

Your occupation: Mechanical Engineer

Miles traveled to reunion: 1744

Favorite G.F.H.S. Teacher: Vel Sabo

Thoughts you are having approaching the reunion: I feel like it has been a VERY long ten years since graduation! I am very excited to spend time with my old friends again. I am curious to see if anyone has fulfilled his or her destiny as stated in the school newspaper just prior to graduation.

Funny high school story: I remember (barely) a funny story that happened not too long before graduation. Angie O'Hare and I went to the Senior Class Kegger at Heritage Park. Around 5:00 that evening, we went to my house, where I found it necessary to drive through my garage door with my AMC Pacer. The car was fine, but the door wasn't. To this day, I can't look at an aluminum garage door without cracking a smile.

Funny post-high school story: 2 funny stories: 1) My marriage 2) My brief, but flashy obsession with dressing like David Bowie.

Hobbies and interests: I still like to ski (fat chance in the Midwest). Also, my hobbies include sewing, coin collecting, and the memorization of metropolitan phone directories. I like to travel, semi-automatic weapons, body painting and movie of the occult.
